REDS EXECUTE ANOTHER MASSIVE LEAP-FROG WITHDRAWAL

ROSTOV, GATEWAY TO CASPIAN OIL FIELDS, IS EVACUATED

Russia was reported to be executing another massive leap-frog withdrawal before the onslaught of Adolf Hitler's invasion armies today, evacuating most of the civilian population and machinery from Rostov-on-the-Don as the Germans smashed deeper into the upper Donets river industrial basin.

A city of 520,000, about the size of New Orleans or Minneapolis, is the gateway to the vital Caucasus oil fields and the southern shore of the 1,200-mile battlefront.

London military observers said Soviet Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's Red armies were still offering fierce resistance at the approaches to Rostov—with the Germans 10 miles away, at latest reports but that there appeared to be little chance of saving the city.

Russian engineers already have heavily mined the Don river port, preparing to dynamite it into ruins at the signal for retreat.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said Axis forces had crossed the upper Donets river at several points—apparently in a wide flanking movement intended to engulf Rostov—and the Berlin radio broadcast reports that the west bank of the river was now in Axis hands.

In the Crimean campaign, where the Germans are driving to capture Russia's big Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol, the Nazi high command said German and Rumanian troops were continuing their rout of Soviet forces.

SPEAKER SAYS CHANGES IN WAR CABINET COMING

London, Nov. 1.—(P)—Cabinet changes involving Lord Beaverbrook, minister of supply, and Lord Halifax, ambassador to Washington, and a member of the war cabinet, are imminent, Edgar Louis Brannville, a liberal national member of parliament, said today.

In a business men's luncheon speech Brannville said:

"It is now generally accepted at cabinet changes are imminent. They will be surprising. They will be the minister of supply and Lord Halifax and the foreign office."

Lord Beaverbrook is known to be suffering from asthma and it has been reported he might not fill it the remaining two months of his six-months period for which he is to serve. Lord Halifax has been a main target of the common enemy.

Parliamentary critics of the government, unopposed by assurances of all-out aid for Russia, added the British war cabinet in an effort to force a reply from Churchill.

Laborite Emanuel Shinwell declared that "there is irrefutable evidence of lack of unity among government departments and ministers who are constantly passing the buck from one department to another."

Speaking at Warrington, in Lancashire, Shinwell asserted that full cooperation among Britain, the United States and Russia would in the end prove invincible, but he said that Britain must "pull her all weight" in the combination.

Lord Strabolgh, chief labor whip in the house of lords, asserted before the Fabian society in London that Britain was not sharing the sacrifices of the Russians "in the common struggle," and he raised a series of questions in pursuance of his stand ten days ago in the house of lords when he deplored Britain's inability to create a diversion for the Russians in the east.

Liberal Edward Graham White and Socialist Alfred Edwards similarly criticized the government in speeches in the provinces.

TO FILL VACANCY SOON

Harrisburg, Nov. 1.—(P)—Governor James' dismissal of Ernest Kelly from his $9,000 job as executive director of unemployment compensation today involved a "volley" of verbal blasts today involving the former official, the governor and Lewis G. Hines, secretary of labor and industry.

"Our only mistake—if we did make a mistake—was in not firing Kelly the minute we came into office," said Hines of the 48-year-old bureau chief who established the Pennsylvania jobless insurance system in 1936. The James administration took office in January, 1939.

RESCUED FLIERS SURVIVE AFTER ODD EXPERIENCE

It had been two days since he parachuted from his P-40 pursuit ship onto the slope of 10,400-foot Easton Peak, and the abandoned trapper's shack he had managed to find in Sugarloaf valley, 5,000 feet below the crest of the mountains, didn't offer much in the way of protection against the sub-freezing autumn cold.

Navy's New Cruiser Slides Down the Ways

Camden, N. J., Nov. 1.—(P)—With lessons learned in Europe's sea warfare built into it, the navy's newest cruiser, the 10,000-ton Cleveland, slides down the launching ways today.

Completed about seven months ahead of schedule, the fast fighting ship is the first of a new class of 32 cruisers for which the navy has contracted.

The ship's sponsor is Mrs. Selma Florence Smith Burton, wife of U. S. Senator Harold O. Burton (R-O.).

In keeping with the grim times in which it was built, there were no colorful public ceremonies arranged.

RIVERBOATMEN'S STRIKE TIES UP DEFENSE METAL

Federation's Master, Mates and Pilots Organization Walks Out at Midnight to Enforce Demands for Wage Boosts

AFFECTS STEEL PLANTS

A further threat to production of vital defense metal by the United States Steel Corporation developed today with a riverboat strike which AFL spokesmen said would halt the waterborne movement of coal and coke to the Pittsburgh area.

The federation's Master, Mates and Pilots Organization struck at midnight to enforce demands for undisclosed wage increases. While only 50 boatmen were immediately involved, it was pointed out that a coal-carrying barge hauls 1,000 tons of fuel as compared with 50 tons carried by a railroad car.

The plants affected would be those of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company, subsidiary of big U. S. Steel.

While the coal situation remained unsettled, an agreement was reached between workers and employer at the Robins Drydock, Brooklyn, N. Y., where a strike has delayed work for nearly a week on British and American ship repairs.

Work went ahead at the Bendix, N. J., plant of Air Associates, Inc., under a guard of soldiers and under the supervision of Col. Roy M. Jones, army air corps officer. The plant, with $5,000,000 in vital defense orders, has been through a series of difficulties. The dispute began when the CIO attempted to organize the plant three years ago. The union subsequently won a national labor relations board election. The most recent strike, called Sept. 30 when the union charged the management with unfair labor practices, was ended by executive action. President Roosevelt ordered.

SECOND TRIAL OF HOUCK PUT OVER UNTIL JANUARY

Lock Haven, Nov. 1.—(P)—A second trial for Hoy Kenneth Houck, convicted of a street attack upon a young woman, was continued today until the January term of court by Judge Henry Hippie.

A jury of seven men and five women convicted the 21-year-old former Bellefonte hand leader last night on two indictments in the slaying of Miss Ruth Andrews, 19, of nearby Salona.

Houck's counsel attacked the validity of three indictments charging him with attacking Miss Emily Williams, Jersey Shore student at Lock Haven State Teachers College.

Judge Hippie informed opposing counsel he failed to find on two of the questioned indictments the date on which they were returned.

At Le Havre between 50 and 100 persons assembled before a monument to war dead, but were dispersed by two policemen.

ACTION ON REVISION IN A WEEK

Terming Present Neutrality Act "One of Appeasement Towards Hitler," Which has Proved Futile, Senator Green Calls on Senate to Grant American Merchant Ships the Freedom of The Seas

UNUSUAL SATURDAY SESSION IS CALLED

Washington, Nov. 1.—(P)—Terming the present neutrality act "one of appeasement towards Hitler," which has proved futile, Senator Green (D-R) today called on the senate to grant American merchant ships the freedom of the seas.

Scarcely 24 hours earlier, the navy had announced the sinking of the destroyer Reuben James, on convoy duty west of Iceland. A supplementary announcement last night said 44 of the ship's company had been rescued.

Green, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, was the first scheduled speaker as the senate ended its sixth day of debate on the administration bill knocking out the present neutrality law provisions forbidding the arming of merchant ships and preventing them from entering belligerent ports or combat areas.

Leaders called the senate into an unusual Saturday session in an effort to pass the neutrality revision legislation not later than next Wednesday. Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), a leading opponent of the measure, told reporters, however, that action was unlikely before next week-end.

Wheeler conceded that the opposition would poll only 42 or 43 votes against the legislation, while 49 would be required for a clear majority of the senate membership. The broad revision was recommended by the senate foreign relations committee as a substitute for the house-approved bill limited to arming merchant ships.

An effort to act on the legislation immediately was made today by Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) shortly after the navy had announced the sinking of the Reuben James. But the Texas' request for unanimous consent for such action was blocked when Senators Maloney (D-Conn.) and (Turn To Page Eleven)

PARTY LEADERS TRY TO AROUSE VOTER INTEREST

Importance of Next Tuesday's "Off-Year" Election is Emphasized in Statements Issued by Both State Chairmen

CAMPAIGNS WINDING UP

Harrisburg, Nov. 1.—(P)—In last-minute efforts to capture the interest of Pennsylvania's 5,000,000 voters whose attention has been diverted by international events, state chairmen of both parties today pleaded the importance of next Tuesday's "off-year" election.

"Public apathy is the enemy of free government," said James F. Torrance, Republican state chairman. "The issues are clear. Our duty is plain. The American franchise... the right to vote... is the only safe barometer of public security. By getting out the vote, Republicans of Pennsylvania not only will preserve the bi-party system of government, but set a course in straight thinking for free living Americans everywhere."

ICE IS BELIEVED CAUSE OF CRASH

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 1.—(P)—Ice on the controls was suggested today by Royal Canadian air force officers as the probable cause of the air tragedy in which an American Airlines transport plane crashed into an outfield in a drizzling rain and killed its 17 passengers and three crew members near here Thursday night.

Flight Lieutenant Jack Gray of the nearby Fingal bombing and gunnery school said airmen had been warned that ice formations could be expected that night.

Investigation indicated that Captain David Cooper fought to the last instant to save his 21-passenger Douglas air transport. The top of the control lever was found still clutched in his right hand.

The bodies of all 20 occupants will be sent in sealed caskets to relatives in the United States.

Chilling Green-Grey Waves of Atlantic Still Hold Fate of Possibly 76 Officers and Men From Torpedoed Reuben James, First American Naval Vessel to be Sunk During Present War

CHECK UP UNAVAILABLE AT THE PRESENT TIME

Washington, Nov. 1.—(P)—Chilling green-grey waves of the north Atlantic today still held the fate of possibly 76 officers and men from the torpedoed Reuben James, the first American naval vessel to be sunk in the present war.

The navy announced last night that 44 enlisted men from the old World War destroyer had been rescued, but could say nothing about the remainder of the ship's complement, which normally would total about 120 officers and men.

It was on convoy duty west of Ireland Thursday night when a torpedo ripped into the thin hull.

Taking as hopeful a view as possible under the circumstances, naval authorities speculated that some additional survivors might have been picked up by other members of the convoy. If so, it might be several days before a complete check could be obtained of the entire personnel, because ships in combat zones use their radios only for the most urgent communications.

The Reuben James was the first United States warship to be sunk in the battle of the Atlantic. In fact, only one U. S. combat vessel, the destroyer Jacob Jones, was sunk by torpedo during the World War, although a destroyer and a submarine went down after collisions, and the cruiser San Diego sank after striking a mine.

President Roosevelt had little comment on the incident at his press conference yesterday. He said the Reuben James was simply carrying out a duty assigned to her.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—(P)—The families of at least six Pennsylvanians anxiously awaited definite news today concerning the safety of the Reuben James.

With Our Boys In North Carolina

By Special Correspondence

Oct. 26, 1941.
Another week has passed and the members of Company I are once again on their own time for a weekend in the nearby towns of the most courteous state of North Carolina. The people in general down here have welcomed the coming of the northern troops with open arms and without doubt the fellows will leave here with one of the finest impressions of the southland that has ever been taken with a soldier from this state.

With our first phase of maneuvers behind us we look forward to the climax of this period of our training when army will fight against army in one of the greatest peace time maneuvers ever to be held in the United States. It is expected that nearly a half million troops will be in the field at one time in this battle and we know for ourselves that it will be a great experience to all of us seeing action on so large a scale for the first time.

In the following paragraphs we will endeavor to give you a blow by blow description of just what took place with Company I, in the last week of maneuvers in which we took part.

On Monday we were told to get our blanket rolls made and be ready to shove off at a minute's notice and therefore the fellows all expected to shove off at any time that day, but much to our dismay we did not leave the base camp until nearly 10:30 p. m. and after moving in the huge quarter-master's trucks for nearly eight miles in to Wadesboro we were turned around and sent back to base camp due to the fact that the enemy had changed its position while we were enroute and therefore we also changed our lines and being in the reserve brigade the 112th had to come back to base camp for their bivouac area that night.

Tuesday morning all was quiet and there was very little doing but later in the afternoon we were moved into position about thirty miles from the camp and as near as I know it was just somewhere in North Carolina. However, that night we were placed on division guard and outpost so the company saw very little sleep that night and all of the next day we spent in the same procedure except for a slight movement forward which was approximately seven miles. The battle seemed to be progressing quite well for the blue army (this was the army in which Company I was serving) and we had very little action so far behind the lines. During the course of the day of Wednesday a few patrols were captured by our reserve organizations and the Red forces were in a very hurried retreat from the blue army. At 9:00 p. m. on the same day the battle was pronounced a victory in the blue forces' favor and the men were all bivouaced for the night. The next day we waited until late afternoon when transportation came for us and brought us back to base camp for the remainder of the week.

Now for some of the minor details and the outstanding miseries the boys had to endure. The greatest of all our troubles was trying to breathe. It hasn't rained down here since we have arrived and the dust is about six inches deep in some places along the various roads that we have to travel on. During the course of the battles in which we take part there are trips to be taken on trucks and the dust is so heavy that it is nearly impossible to see in front of the truck in which you are riding. With this very annoying factor in our minds it is no strange thing to hear at times of coughing going on after one of these very dusty rides.

Since we have come to the sunny state of North Carolina it has been the pleasure of many of the boys from back home who are in other outfits to visit us here as they are encamped close to us and it is quite convenient for them to get over to see us. We will endeavor to give you some of the names of the various boys who have visited us from other outfits.

Last week we had one of St. Joseph's most ardent lovers and boys' club workers here, none other than Bruno Salerno, who is a private in the 29th division. The army certainly has been doing him good as he looks very well and we hope that he will be able to visit us once again before we shove off for home.

This weekend our old pal Leon Abbott who used to reside on Terrace street in Warren, was here and we are proud to announce that he is a corporal with Company E, 174th Inf. from Jamestown, N. Y. It seems that Abbott signed up with the guard unit from Jamestown just before they left for camp and they are now down here in these big maneuvers. Leon sends his best regards to the folks back home and especially to his sister. Even though the boys are in different units than Company I, don't forget folks, they like to hear from the old home town and they are thinking of you every minute.

We were also honored with a visit from Major Stevenson who without a doubt you all know, or at least have heard of him. He was very happy to be able to see the boys and it is with great regret that you truly did not find out what outfit he is connected with.

With all of the news on paper that can be thought of at the present time it looks as though we will have to sign off until a later date when again we will go to press and try and give all of the occurrences down here that we can.

Good-Sized Crowd Attends Initial Public Meeting of History Days; Society to Hold Dinner Tonight

A good sized crowd, considering the unfavorable weather and numerous counter-attractions, was present at Warren High School auditorium last evening for the first public event in the observance of Warren county's "History Days". The three speakers, all of whom have been actively identified with the archaeological work being done near Warren during the past summer, were introduced by M. H. Deardorff, who presided at the meeting.

Dr. C. E. Scheaffer, who has been in general charge of the local work, discussed "Mound Builders" and explained the various types of research that had been conducted all over the eastern United States to learn of the lives of the Indians scattered in many portions of the county, as they lived during the period of from five hundred to one thousand years ago. Dr. Scheaffer provided the background for the talk of:

Edmund Carpenter, who discussed "Upper Allegheny Indian Sites", with more detailed explanation of the research into the mounds which have been discovered here in western Pennsylvania from Ticonderoga to the New York State line. He explained the various kinds of war implements, living utensils, pottery, ornaments, etc., that have enabled archaeologists to trace the history of the Iroquois, Canandagua, Monongahela, Seneca, and other Indian tribes in this vicinity.

And for Dr. Wesley Bliss, who gave an illustrated and detailed record of the work at "Sugar Run Site", showing how this site was originally located, and illustrating the findings which have unearthed many findings of historical and scientific interest not only to this immediate locality but to the State and National institutions in general who are engaged in the study of Indian culture. Dr. Bliss' talk was illustrated by colored photographs of the many specimens of skulls, bones, arrow heads, implements of war and peace, ornaments, such as mica, turtle shells, and carved bones, colored pokers used for paints, and other interesting data. He also showed some beautiful colored views of the upper Allegheny Valley, where the work has been carried on.

The speakers expressed their appreciation to the United States Office of Indian Affairs, which has provided a number of workers for the job done during the past summer, and they also expressed their appreciation for the interest of the Warren County Historical Society in providing the public with the opportunity to learn more about this interesting subject.

The observance of Warren county's "History Days" will continue with the dinner and meeting of the Warren County Historical Society at the YWCA this evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

The final event of these several days will be the program at the Warren Philomel Club at 3:00 p. m., Monday, November 3rd, commemorating the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of General William Irvine. The principal address will be given by Honorable Edward Lindsey, who will speak on the life of General William Irvine, and tributes will also be given by Mrs. Charles F. Still, regent, Kanawha Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists; Mrs. Warren Carlin, regent, General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. F. C. Eaton, president, General William Irvine Chapter, Daughters of 1812.

Mrs. Alice Yeager will sing Kipling's "Recessional", and "America". All who can do so are cordially invited to attend these exercises.

He has a small dog and has learned to provide his own amusements for the most part, as he has very few children neighbors with whom to play. ### New Development In Life Insurance Is Sensational Idea

A new development in life insurance, hailed throughout the country as the most sensational idea in forty years, is being announced in the columns of this paper this week by Peter P. Horn, agent for the State Farm Insurance Companies of Bloomington, Illinois.

We have long known of the economic advantages of life insurance; how it has enabled thousands of families to hold together when the death of the breadwinner might have otherwise been a blow from which the family could never have recovered. We know of thousands of boys and girls who have been able to go to High School and College because a parent had foresight enough to provide life insurance. And we know of many people who have been provided for in their old age

Home Economics News

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Inspired by the number of women who have been seeking a washday soap that has the punch to get out deep dirt yet is safe for ravens cottons, etc., the Better Fabrics Testing Bureau and the U. S. Testing Co. have been making exhaustive tests, recently completed.

Now, it was revealed today, both well-known independent laboratories have approved a washday soap known as Super Suds as being completely Rayon-Safe. To make absolutely sure that women obtain the results they want from washing rayons, the experts have set up the following standard rules: (1) Test a small patch of the rayon in plain water for color-fastness. If color runs, it's not washable. (2) Wash rayons separately in lukewarm suds using Rayon-Safe soap. Make suds with hot water, then add cold water to get lukewarm temperature. (3) Do not soak rayons. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring or twist. (4) Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water. Roll in towel, but don't leave there. (5) Use a moderate iron.

Needlework Guild Collecting Gifts For Garment Day

Directors of the Warren Branch Needlework Guild of America, busy with the task of collecting gifts from members for the annual "Garment Day" to be held at the Woman's Club next Wednesday afternoon, November 5.

Membership in this "Charity Which Aids All Charities" is based upon the gift of two new articles to be distributed after the gathering to the various relief and charity organizations of the community. Articles of all kinds, linens or wearing apparel for all ages, are most acceptable by the branch and particular stress is being placed this year upon baby layettes and wearing apparel for school-age children.

In conjunction with the display of articles at the clubhouse on Wednesday afternoon, the social committee will serve tea from three until five o'clock.

In years past the collecting was done entirely in Warren borough, but interest has spread to rural sections until now there are circles operating in Sheffield, Tidoute and North Warren, all in cooperation with the local branch.

Much of the distribution of Needlework Guild articles takes place in the rural sections and it is believed that a better understanding of this fact and of the needs of the association will find many more persons joining the membership ranks.

Anyone who is interested in membership and has not been contacted by a director may receive full information by contacting Mrs. B. W. Knapp, Verbeek street, who heads the branch or Mrs. William F. Crockett, Fourth avenue, the secretary.

11-11-11 Everybody Reads the Times-Mirror

Girl Scouts in Warren county are concluding today their celebration of Girl Scout Week, but adults in the organization have good reason for extending their observance during the visit of Miss Katherine Park, member of the national staff, who will be here November 3 through November 7.

KATHERINE PARK

Miss Park is one of the most experienced and most popular members of the national staff. During the summer months she heads Camp Juliette Low, one of the two national training schools for Girl Scout leaders and professional workers. She is available to a limited number of communities during the year and the Warren County Council considers its leaders, council and committee members most fortunate in securing her services.

Training for each type of adult volunteer Girl Scout worker will be held in the five days Miss Park is in Warren. Beginning with a meeting of all members of council and standing committees at the Y. W. C. A. at 11 a. m. on Monday, the group will adjourn for luncheon at one o'clock; and a round table discussion for members of the public relations committee will be held at 2:30.

A luncheon supper for all leaders and troop committees will be held the same evening at six o'clock, also at the Y. W. C. A. with Mrs. H. R. Henning, Mrs. George Watt and Miss Fern Mostert in charge. Training in Girl Scout leadership will follow the supper. Miss Park will offer two hours of instruction at 8 a. m. and will have another session for the same group from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. on Friday evening. These two meetings will comprise one unit.

Tuesday meetings with Miss Park include a round table session for the training committee, to be held at the Girl Scout office, 311 Market street, at two o'clock; and a similar session for leaders and troop committees of Senior Girl Scouts at the same place at 7:30. All meetings to be held during the week have been arranged by the training committee of the council, of which Mrs. William Glassman is chairman. Interested adults who are not now active in Girl Scouting but would like to attend some of the training meetings are asked to telephone Mrs. Glassman or the Girl Scout office.

The governor indicated he would fill the vacancy quickly. William E. Collier is associate director of the bureau.

Hines said "everyone approves the governor's action, and this includes the employees." There are 3,400 in the bureau.

A legislative committee has been investigating the report of David R. Perry, deputy attorney general assigned to the bureau, that thousands of dollars have been paid out in fraudulent claims against the $180,000,000 unemployment compensation fund, but witnesses before the committee have disagreed as to the cause. Kelly blamed the law. Perry laid it to lack of personnel, which he said was cut by the federal social security board. William W. Bardley, regional representative of the board, said the fault lay with the state's administration, and the committee itself criticized Hines.

Both James and Hines said the Democratic-controlled committee was playing politics with the investigation.

The bureau was established under the Democratic administration of George H. Earle.

It was a "diabolical conspiracy" perpetrated by the city Democratic organization, said Witkin, in denying the accusation.

VOTING MACHINE INSTRUCTIONS

Both political parties have been preaching straight tickets for years. Workers at polls have gone so far in past and will tell you again next Tuesday to vote straight or you may lose your vote. This is ridiculous.

VERY SIMPLE TO SPLIT

Pull the straight party lever on your extreme left. You will notice all the small levers in this row across drop to a 45 degree angle. Now push up the small lever under the candidate you do not want. Pull down the small lever under the candidate in the other party you do want.

IMPOSSIBLE FOR MISTAKE

It is impossible for you to pull the wrong small lever in other party, as you cannot get any other small lever than the one you want, as only the right one can be pulled down after you have pushed up the one you do not want, after having pulled the straight ticket. Open curtain and your vote is registered.

GREENFIELD PREPS CHALLENGE JACKETS HERE TOMORROW

Light, Speedy Eleven Hopes to Upset Locals; Champs Out to Register Sixth Triumph

All set for what they expect to be one of the hardest games on their home schedule this fall, the Red Jackets are prepared to face the Greenfield Preps here on Russell Field tomorrow afternoon, with the kickoff slated for 2:30 o'clock.

Having battled to a tight 24-23 victory over the Preps' arch-rivals, the Butler Cubs, last weekend, the local outfit hopes to be more impressive and decisive in tomorrow's contest.

They've gone through a hard season this fall, have experienced their breaks and hardships, and now are hoping for a few more triumphs to serve as a fitting climax to the campaign, one which has seen them win over some of the top foes from the Pittsburgh district, drop the encounter in Akron to the Awnings, tie with Trafford and Aliquippa, and provide some better-than-average football for district grid fans for the most part over the route.

Every member of the squad is in good condition for the contest, no injuries holding any on the sidelines, therefore assuring the fans of the fact that the Jackets will have all of their power available when they clash with the Preps.

And this setup they may well need, because, though Greenfield will give weight as much as 20 pounds to the man in some positions, they have an aggressive team, with plenty of speed and the needed spirit to give the Jackets a real battle.

The Preps boast a record fully as colorful and successful this season as that owned by the Cubs when they defeated Warren last week, and Greenfield as a well-drilled team capable of putting up a battle even though at odds.

Expected to be in the starting lineup for the Jackets tomorrow are, on the line, Barnes and probably Leson at ends unless Bob Main puts in another appearance. Gella and Guchard at the tackles, Rosequist and Amann will draw their regular guard assignments, and Sianni or Fredericks will be at center.

In the backfield Joe Bizzaro will probably go the quarter-backing, with Frank Marz and Harold Sedor at the halves and either Bill Graham or Art Giancotti at fullback.

The commotion, as strong a starting eleven as the Jackets could field, and are worthy of holding Greenfield at bay if the Red Jackets are to go so, but if Main can make it home for the game he would be a welcome hand for one of the wings, allowing Leson to work to advantage at a tackle.

Hoping for another game as exciting as last week's, a large crowd of fans is expected to watch the Jackets in their ninth start of the season.

Kicked Off

Charley Anderson, highly rated end, was dismissed from the Ohio State squad by Coach Paul Brown. No reason was given, but it is believed the flashy Negro broke training. Brown also coached Anderson in high school at Massillon, O.

Greenleaf Dropped Fifth Time in Row

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—(P)—Veteran Erwin Rudolph, of Cleveland and Youthful Irving Crane, of Leominster, N. Y., today were tied for first place in the World's Pocket Billiards Championship tournament.

Rudolph, four-time former winner of the crown, gained equal rank with Crane as six victories against one defeat by trouncing Ralph Greenleaf of Chicago, 125 to 54 in 12 innings last night. It was Greenleaf's third straight loss and dropped him into a tie for fifth place.

Greenleaf got off to a good start, running 47, but Rudolph soon caught up to him and then produced the high run of the match, 34 in the ninth to go ahead.

Meantime Willie Mosconi, defending champion from Philadelphia, stopped his two-match losing streak by trouncing Andrew Porzi of New York, 125 to 54 in six innings. Mosconi ran 54 and out-compared with Porzi's best of 21 in the sixth inning.

Rain and Fog Fail To Stop Schoolboys

Meadville, Pa., Nov. 1.—(P)—Chilling rain and fog were no barrier to Pennsylvania schoolboy runners starting this season's lap today of the Erie-Philadelphia relay to exemplify the importance of physical fitness to the state.

A steady downpour soaked the young trackmen on part of the first 41-mile leg from Erie to this Crawford county city yesterday but served to quicken their pace. The arrival of a runner here at 3:12 p. m. was an hour and one-half ahead of schedule.

Total exports of all aeronautical equipment to the British amounted to more than $254,000,000 during first seven months of 1941, according to Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

ROBINSON WINS DECISION OVER FRITZIE ZIVIC

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, Nov. 1.—(P)—Starved for a good scrap, the fans barked Madison Square Garden five-deep last night to see Ray Robinson, a tall, scared-looking Negro boy, win his 26th straight professional victory at the expense of Fritz Zivic.

Fritz Zivic is the former welterweight champion and one of the cleverest workmen in the ring today. He wound up last night with a left eye practically closed.

Robinson is about the most promising youngster to come along since Joe Louis. He spotted Zivic better than six pounds—129½ to 145½—and came on to win the last three rounds of a 10 rounder and beat his veteran opponent.

There wasn't a knockdown. Neither fighter was staggered nor seriously hurt. They simply fought for 10 rounds—hard and constantly. At the end there was no complaint from the overflow crowd of 20,551. It had seen a battle.

Robinson covered himself with glory. The tall Negro took every round Zivic could offer in the middle rounds and then came on to beat him.

Robinson was the favorite last night, on the strength of his knockout punch. He had stopped 20 out of 25 professional opponents. He never came close to chopping Zivic for good, but he proved himself even a better fighter in a way, than he had been touted.

It might have been called a draw. It was close. Yet Zivic—the broken-nose veteran from Pittsburgh—looked entirely crestfallen when he returned to his corner after the last bell. He didn't even look around hopefully when they announced collected the tickets. He had bet a wad on himself, too.

Anyhow, Butler may have been robbed or not on the decision in the last minute giving Warren the ball on the Cub one-yard line due to pass interference in the end zone. We don't work that end of the game; we cover that entirely up to the officials. Lots of times their decisions haven't been what this agent thought they should be, but it's as hard for them to please everyone as for us to write a story which will satisfy everybody. According to the "Eagle", Butler added up 22 first downs to 11 for Warren, outgained and outplayed them, which isn't quite right, either. Warren carried exactly thirteen such first downs; Butler had eleven, and those figures are direct from our play-by-play notes. As for either team outplaying the other, that's more or less a toss up, though one might be given a smaller, lighter and most courageous Butler eleven. Faust also mentioned the fact that the Jackets played none too clean a game, and in that he has plenty of supporters in this community. We, ourselves, saw several unsportsmanlike incidents for which we don't honor the locals. However, our main point is that to cover a game you don't see is like taking a test in French when you've studied Greek—it's all Greek to you.

And now we see the P. I. A. A. is in the news again. District 12 has presented Edmund Wicht, PIAA secretary, with a petition to re-establish the 20-year age limit in Pennsylvania instead of the current 19-year ruling which became effective two months ago. And, because of the move being unanimous in the district, a vote will be taken on this point later to determine whether or not high schools in this state will return to their former rules or continue to abide by the new ones. This scribe hopes they go back to the 20-year ruling, mainly for the same reason as the schools offering the petition. That is because the smaller communities, for example Sheffield and Youngsville, have trouble obtaining material and that's certainly no help to them. Many good athletes are forced out of action in their senior year in high school because they're "too old." That shouldn't be, and no youth of nineteen should be regarded in that manner.

Packers, Bears Meet At Chicago Tomorrow

New York, Nov. 1.—(P)—All National Pro League football teams are scheduled to work their regular Sunday shifts tomorrow, but the bulk of the business goes to the Green Bay Packers, who face the titanic task of caging the Champion Chicago Bears.

A crowd of 46,500 fans, the greatest ever to see a pro game in the Midwest, has bought all the seats at Wrigley Field in Chicago for this 46th renewal of the oldest rivalry in the league.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Philadelphia Eagles tangle in an all-eastern fuss at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn. Pittsburgh's lowly Steelers, the only winless team in the league, move into the nation's capital to battle the Washington Redskins. And the Detroit Lions collide with the Rams at Cleveland.

Bradford Hi Upsels Jamestown, 20 to 7

On a muddy gridiron that was slippery too, Bradford's little Owls, giving up fifteen pounds to a man last night, swamped Jamestown's Red and Green at Jamestown by a score of 20-7.

Scoring fourteen points in the first period and six in the third, the Pilgrims held the Jammers defenseless until the fading minutes of the fourth chapter when Glenn Strong broke away for sixteen yards and the lone Jamestown score.

It was the biggest upset in scholastic football in this area this fall.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

SPORTS CAN'T BE REPORTED CORRECTLY BY WRITERS WHO DON'T TAKE IN THE EVENTS; RESTORING 20-YEAR-RULE SHOULD BE DONE

The idea of reporting a sports event from the sports desk isn't very practical, in the opinion of this agent. We don't like to do it—it would rather see for ourselves, then we can talk as an eye-witness in writing an account of the affair or discussing it thereafter. But it seems that Bill Faust, sports editor of the Butler Eagle, is content to believe everything he hears on the return of Butler athletic organizations, write the game as an expert, and then comment thereupon. That isn't fair, not to the readers or to himself, but that we care not about this. However, we are interested in his story of the game played here last Sunday between the Cubs and Jackets, and also a column which he wrote at the same time. Related to us by Bob Fuhrer, a former schoolmate now attending Temple University, we have received the real McCoy in regard to Faust's writeup following the game. Admittedly stating he did not see it, in the opening paragraph of the story Faust declares that the Cubs were "robbed" on the pass interference decision. Moreover, his statistics do not agree with those which we added, and, while we can make mistakes, this is one time this corner is sure that was not the case.

Probably the best match of the evening was at the Conewango where Coach Monty McClure saw his boys make a goal line stand to tie the Logans, two points apiece. The first game went to the Logans, the second to the McClures and the third ended in a tie with the Logans winning the point, but the Miraclesmen held the edge in total pins, thus the deadlock.

Highlight of that match, by the way, was Bill Rice's return to form. He banged out 512, would have had more but for a low second game of only 140.

The Iroquois Beer meet Bradford in an Interstate league set to tomorrow afternoon at the Arcade. American Legion tangles with Celoron and the Blue and White with Olean, also at the local public slides.

What with most everyone celebrating Halloween, even including the pins, there were few outstanding incidents on the local alleys last night, but what there were, we'll give you.

In the Elks Lecturing Knights League the Keystones managed to replace their former high team game and total records with a 900 game and a 2551 total. Their former marks, which were high for the loop, were 891 and 2517.

The Ladies continued to slap the pins at the Arcade, but once again the top two teams, Harriet-Bryt and Miller's, took four apiece to keep interest at a low pitch. No marks were changed, and little else took place.

Members of St. Paul's Church to Conclude Anniversary Observance

Rev. Vernon Serenius

Rev. Bertil Edquist

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran church will conclude tomorrow one of the busiest weeks in the history of the congregation, when three great services bring to a close the carefully-planned 70th anniversary celebration.

The day's services will bring to the pulpit three speakers of particular interest to the membership, Dr. Felix V. Hanson, of Jamestown, who is president of the New York Conference, Rev. Vernon Serenius, of Minneapolis, Minn., who served the parish from 1931 to 1940, and Rev. Henry Hokanson, regional director of home missions in the New York and New England Conference.

Following the 9:30 o'clock Sunday school period tomorrow morning, the evening worship service will convene at 10:30, with special music by the organist choir and congregation. Dr. Hanson has Bainbridge, photography; Corwin Skillman, swimming, canoeing, rowing, public health and pioneer.

Carl Mahaffey, athletics; Khlar McDonald, carpentry; James Eaton, safety and camping; Gail Barker, camping and pioneering; William Stone, firemanship; and Delbert Dahmple, rowing and swimming.

The advancement record of the entire Warren County Council has improved considerably this year according to the records of the national office in New York city which reports that the Warren County Boy Scout Council is doing a better job on Scout advancement than seventy percent of the Boy Scout councils in the United States.

HUNTERS START ANNUAL DRIVE ON SMALL GAME

Hunters of Warren county, in common with those throughout the state, started the small game season today with unusually good prospects for a heavy kill.

Muddy fields and rain-soaked thickets did not keep the really ardent hunter from his favorite sport. In fact, the rains which greeted the opening of the season for squirrels, rabbits, grouse and pheasants were regarded by many as a stroke of fortune.

They figured with Seth Gordon game commission executive, that "pre-season rains make it easier for the hunters' dogs to trail game and find crippled game that can be shot early in the season."

"Besides, it will obviate the danger of fires which might be set accidentally," Gordon said.

The turnout was expected to be smaller this year, principally because of the number of men in military service or working in defense industries, and not because of the rains.

The season extends to November 29, and supplies of all game except quail and squirrels are fairly plentiful, the game commission reports.

As for other game: The commission predicts a better than average rumpheek pheasant season; rabbit and wild turkey supplies are very favorable, and grouse conditions are good.

After today, the hunters may enter the field at 7 a. m., remaining until 5 p. m.

NITTANY LIONS TROUNCE N. Y. U. ON SOGGY FIELD

New York, Nov. 1.—(P)—Hallowe'en held no terrors for many of the nation's collegiate football teams, but N. Y. U., Carnegie Tech, George Washington and Texas Tech faded into defeat without a ghost of a shot.

While beatings were nothing new to the Violets, Skibos and Colonials, the Red Raiders of Texas Tech tasted defeat for the first time this year.

Miami (Fla.) University, also unbeaten and untied, ran its victory string to five in a row by blanketing Tech, 6-0. The Hurricanes cashed in on a Raider fumble in the second period, then played great defensive football the rest of the way.

A 19-yard pass from Russell Coates to Ray Gorman produced the touchdown that averaged last year's 61-14 defeat by Tech.

Penn State handed New York University its third straight shutout by parading to six touchdowns for a 42-0 victory in the rain at New York's Polo Grounds.

Fullback Bill Smaltz led the attack for the victors, handling the slippery ball on most of Penn State's plays and completing four out of six passes for a gain of 82 yards.

In a Southern Conference game at the nation's capital, Clemson's defending champions rolled over George Washington, 19 to 0, as a steady drizzle hampered both teams.

Unbeaten Case romped to a 27-0 victory over the same Carnegie Tech eleven that held Notre Dame to 16 points two weeks ago.

The game, played in a steady rain at Cleveland, resulted in the fifth straight win for Case and the worst beating of a miserable season for the once-proud Skibos.

"Song of Thanksgiving" by Krenmer and "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "The Messiah"

Rev. Hokanson will be the speaker for this service, and has announced his topic will be "Heroes of Faith."

All friends of the church are cordially invited to attend any or all of these services and participate in the greatest celebration the St. Paul's congregation has ever known. "Missionary Night", observed on Friday evening, drew another large audience of members and friends, and paid special tribute to those who were charter members in the Mission Society and the Effie Mission Circle. Each of these members marching in the processional, was distinguished by a special badge.

Rev. Carl Jacobson, who, with his wife, founded the Mission group, came from Williamsport to extend a greeting, returning home last evening. It is interesting to note, also, that the Effie Circle bears Mrs. Jacobson's name.

The service was an especially beautiful one, well prepared and well presented. Special commendation was accorded those in charge of the musical selections, organist: Miss Alfreda Lauger; a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Borg; offertory meditation by Mrs. Emil Jacobson, Mrs. John Elkey, Misses Charlotte Erickson and Mary Ann Lundmark; and the appearance of the Miriam Quartet of 1921, Mrs. Walter Seaman, Miss Lauger, Mrs. Emil Jacobson, and Mrs. J. A. Johnson.

An interesting and comprehensive resume of the mission activities was presented by Mrs. Carl Lundahl and Mrs. Herbert Davis.

In conclusion, the women's committee served refreshments for a pleasant social hour, with Mrs. Bertil Edquist and Mrs. J. A. Johnson presiding.

POLITICAL FORUM

Articles appearing in this department are submitted by representatives of the various political parties in Warren county and are not intended to reflect the views or opinions of the publisher.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE FOR JUDGE

It appears that the Republican organization has misconstrued the object of this committee. We are very sorry. We do not think it necessary to mention that Judge Edward S. Lindsey, Harold Hampton, other attorneys and citizens involved in this crusade are not New Dealers nor have ever been mentioned in this column for any other office but for judge. This movement has nothing to say about any other candidate in either party with the exception of judge, as they are all qualified. The crusade has been and continues to be for to recommend the candidate they believe better qualified for judge, which our speakers, not Democrats have been extolling to the public. The crusade has been one of education to bring forcibly to the people just what important duties have to be performed by the office. What kind of a training is necessary for the same. That it takes more than just a few years of law work.

No doubt the Republican organization is bewildered over the movement when some had the fortitude to come out openly to expose a political action of a single man. It was this same kind of politics 50 years ago in this county that caused a revolt when they wanted to make a football out of the dignity of the Court. George Higgins, Republican politician, was going to receive his debt from the boss for work performed. The Republicans could not stomach this brazen work and elected Charles H. Noyes on the Democratic ticket. This is the revolt that is taking place now.

Republican attorneys, pleaded with Earl H. Beshlin to run after Mr. Wade had announced. Some of these who have signed a blank endorsement are said to have admitted that it was for political reasons. Many admit that Mr. Beshlin is the superior man in qualifications for the office. The man who fills the position has to be non-partisan if he is honest about it. Mr. Beshlin has no political boss who told him to run. He is independent and owes no allegiance to any one.

Before it had its first building, a century and a quarter ago, Allegany College had a 10,000 volume library, then second only to Harvard's in this country.

AN OPEN LETTER

EDWARD LINDSEY
Warren National Bank Building
Warren, Pennsylvania

October 27, 1941

Mr. A. H. Yerg, Chairman
Non-Partisan Committee
For Beshlin for Judge
Warren, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Yerg:

Your efforts to bring to the attention of the voters the importance of the Judicial Office and its non-partisan nature are very commendable. The very great importance to all of the people of having the office of Judge of our Courts filled by the attorney best qualified in point of legal ability, experience, practice and mature judgment is pretty obvious to an attorney who appears frequently in the courts; it is not so obvious to persons engaged in ordinary business pursuits. Since I have had an opportunity to know and to learn at first hand the qualifications of the members of the Bar for this high office, I am impelled to offer your organization my support of the candidacy of Earl H. Beshlin for the Judgeship.

Since anyone is liable to have his rights challenged and to be obligated to defend or vindicate them in the courts, the importance to every citizen of who is to fill the judicial office is apparent. Not only the property rights, but the liberty, the good name of any citizen, the custody of his children, his social, marital, and political status—even his life—may depend not only upon the legal learning of the Judge, but upon his ability to apply that learning to the varied situations of fact that arise and upon his wisdom, good judgment, experience and independence.

It is my considered and candid judgment that of the candidates before the voters the qualifications of Earl H. Beshlin for the Office of Judge in all the respects referred to are unquestionably superior and that the election of Mr. Beshlin would be highly advantageous to the people of this Judicial District. I therefore consider it my duty as a citizen to support Mr. Beshlin. Your organization may make such use of this letter as it sees fit.

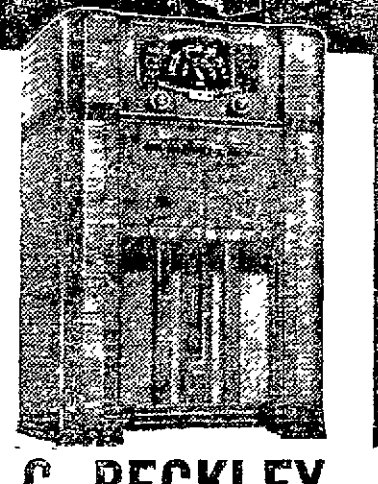

Sincerely,
EDWARD LINDSEY.
